Guidelines for New Mandatory Reporting Law

In 2001, the Legislature enacted a Mandatory Reporting Law that assigns a much broader responsibility to all schools. Arizona Revised Statutes §15-341(A)(33) states: A. The Governing Board shall...

33. Report any suspected crimes against persons or property and any incidents that could potentially threaten the safety or security of pupils, teachers, or administrators to local law enforcement. PPEP TEC High School and its employees are immune from any liability for any good faith actions taken in furtherance of this paragraph.

As a result, all schools are obligated to report to law enforcement:

- Any suspected crimes against persons or property; and
- Any incidents that could potentially threaten the safety or security of students or staff.

This new law puts new demands on everyone. There is now a reporting duty that is broad enough to include some threats or acts that previously would have been handled only through disciplinary action at a school level, conflict resolution intervention, or perhaps, even ignored. Virtually any crime is a crime committed against a person or property. Consequently, all incidents involving suspected criminal conduct must be reported.

Public Notice to Parents

Recent legislation requires that PPEP TEC High School must notify all parents that teacher résumés are on file and available for review at the Administrative Offices located at 1840 E. Benson Highway, Tucson, Arizona.

Should you wish to review a teacher's résumé, please contact the Administrative Office at (520) 294-6997.
